

Six share their war memories

★ THE 'We Were There Too - British Jews in the First World War' team were guest speakers at Merseyside Jewish Community Care's memorabilia event on Monday.

Senior project consultant Alan Fell delivered the presentation with project manager Rodney Ross and researcher Charlotte Clare also in attendance.

Alan introduced the talk by looking at one of the latest additions to the website of the Liverpool Hebrew School Old Boys Association.

Research was taken from Liverpool Central Library Archives and personal records about Joseph Bernstein, Hyman Gorfunkle, Simon Abrahams, Jacob Nie-man, Louis Grabois were discovered.

Alan also appealed for hidden stories about family members who may have served in the First World War.

The We Were There Too team

MEMORIES: MJCC members with Alan Fell and Rodney Ross from the We Were There Too together with MJCC care co-ordinators Susan Goldenberg and Anthea Simon and wellbeing worker Sue Gotts were excited to collect six new contacts because of the talk.

Rodney said: "It was a pleasure to showcase our project. The enthusiasm and interest from everyone was brilliant and I am sure we will now have more Liverpool stories to add to the We Were There Too website."

The team will address the MJC-

C's Wednesday Lunch Circle on February 26.

The next MJCC event will be on Monday, December 2 when an Amiel BaKehillah delegation will address the members.

The MJCC Chanukah party will be on Monday, December 23.
